WAR ON SENATOR BRACKETT

THE SARATOGA RACING ASSOCIA. TION OUT TO GET EVEN.

Its Members Angry at the Support He Gave to Gov. Hughes in His Anti-Racetrack Gambling Bills-Brackett Is Undisturbed, as He Is Still a Political Power.

SARATOGA, July 27 .- There's a fine kettle of fish sputtering over the municipal coals here to-night and it may boil over before the first week's racing is over. The Saratoga Racing Association has gone gunning for the Hon. Edgar Truman Brackett on account of the support he gave to Gov. Hughes in the Governor's fight for the passage of the anti-racetrack gambling bills. Those who know Senator Brackett best know that he hasn't much of the capitulating spirit of the late Davy Crockett. Instead of saying to the gentlemen of the Saratoga Racing Association 'Don't shoot and I'll come down" Senator Brackett's reply, if he makes any, is much more likely to be: "Shoot and be damned!"

Last winter, when the fight was on for and against the Hart-Agnew bills, the clergymen of Sarafoga held a public meeting at which racetrack gambling was denounced and resolutions of encouragement to Gov. Hughes were passed. At that meeting a letter was read from Senator Brackett in which he gave his hearty support to the anti-racetrack gambling fight and strongly condemned racetrack betting.

Now the gentlemen of the Saratoga Racing Association and their friends or enemies whichever they may be regarded, the bookmakers, have decided to boycott Senator Brackett and anything and everything in Seratoga in which he may be even suspected of having an interest.

The largest and richest banking institution in the State north of Albany is the Adirondack Trust Company of Saratoga, of which Senator Brackett is the president. The directors of the Saratoga Association for the ent of the Breed of Horses have carried its account with the Adirondack Trust Company for several years. A few days ago the directors of the association without so much as saying "boo" to the local director, the Hon. William W. Worden, who happens to be the postmaster of Saratoga, decided to take away the association's account from the Adirondack Trust Company. The trust company is still doing

At the same time it was decided to take the printing of the official programme away from the Daily Saratogian, one of the oldest papers in the State, which has had the work practically ever since the Saratoga racetrack was opened. So far as records show Senstor Brackett hasn't a dollar's worth of interest in the Sara on, but up in this neck of the woods the paper is known as a Brackett organ, and so the gentlemen of the Saratoga as-sociation took a crack at it.

An amusing feature of this merry was is that the racing association and its friends quietly passed out the word to boycott one of the three largest hotels in Saratoga on the general proposition that Brackett must have an interest in it. It has now come out that Brackett not only san't any sort of an interest in the hote but the three men who control it are all abers of the Personal Liberty League. Furthermore the principal stockholder of record in this hotel, who, is an officer of the Legion of Honor and one of the most prominent men in all this North county. has been talked of as one of the vice-presidents of the Personal Liberty League. It looks to-night as if the hotel end of the boycott would be raised.

But the real fun in this opera bouffe per formance is yet to come. The cards happen to be so dealt that it's Brackett's last play. Although he doesn't happen to be a member of the State Senate and although he is most cordially unpopular just at present within the confines of this village, he is still the great political power in his Senate district, which includes the counties of Saratoga and Washington. He is unpopular in Saratoga Springs, because any body would be unpopular who said a word against racing or anything that had to do with racing. In the county, however there are many who say that Senator Brackett has made many more friends than enemies by supporting Gov. Hughes. However that may be, the fact is that the Sheriff of Saratoga county is a Brackett man, the District Attorney of Saratogs county is a Brackett man and the Police Commissioner of Saratoga Springs is a racing would have hard sledding in Saratoga if Brackett sees fit to play all the cards he has in his hand and all he has up his sleeve. On the sparsely filled hotel verandas to-night the friends of racing who have nothing to do with the management of the Saratoga Racing Association ar severely criticising the management of the Saratoga association for what is unreservedly declared to be a "fool policy."

"It doesn't matter," say the friends of racing, "whether the management of the Saratoga Racing Association cordially dislikes Senator Brackett or not. The fact remains that he's the political boss here, and what's the use therefore of a racing management stirring up a racing rumpus when the racing situation throughout the State is on so delicate a balance?" To all inquirers Senator Brackett is as dumb as an ovster. He simply says that he is a private citizen and that he isn't either the District Attorney, the Sheriff of the county or the police commissioner of the village. He suggests that all inquiries be addressed to the District Attorney. That official is the Hon. Horace E. McKnight, who is regarded up in these parts as being a pretty ripsnorting good

Mr. McKnight could not be got at tonight, but those who have talked with him say that he has carefully read the decision of Justice Bischoff in the Coney Island Jockey Club case and he has determined to be guided in any action he may take solely by that decision. If that be true there won't be much trouble in getting a bet down during the Saratoga meeting. Those in the know say that McKnight's attitude is all the answer Senator Brackett will make to the Saratoga Racing Association's boycott except to snap his fingers

Former Army Captain Alleges False Im prisonment-Grosscup-Landis Feud.

CHICAGO, July 27.-Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of the United States District Court probably will be sued next week for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment.

The suit is to be instituted by Daniel F. Keller, formerly a Captain in the United States Army, who was sent to the Federa penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth last Saturday by Judge Landis to serve a two year sentence for stealing Government Attorneys W. A. Adams and W. M. Yeatman, representing Keller, allege that Judge Landis issued a mittimus committing the army Captain to the penitentiary at Leavenworth in the face of writs of supersedeas and error which had been issued by Judge Grosscup. Applications for a writ of habeas corpus will be made by Attorneys Adams and Yeatman to-morrow, and in all probability Capt. Keller will be taken from the prison at Fort Leavenworth and brought rack to Chicago the last of the week.

For some time Judge Landis and Judge Grosscup have not been on speaking terms, and the breach became wider when Judge Grosscup wrote the decision for the Court of Appeals reversing the $29,240,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis on the Standard Oil Company

The suit to be filed by Capt. Keller against Judge Landis will result in both jurists being called into the State courts to testify. Capt. Keller was taken to the Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth last Saturday by United States Deputy Marshal Wilmarth. It was charged that Keller collected more than $50,000 on forged checks. Nebraska Democrats and Bryan's Friends

Angered at Cowboy Mayor's Break. OMAHA, July 27 .- Omaha's cowboy Mayor, James C. Dahlman, has accepted a chalenge to debate the liquor question at the Bellevue Chautauqua Wednesday night with Mrs. Mary Harris of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the political friends of the Mayor and of Mr. Bryan are disgusted with him for doing so.

They regard it as the worst break Dahlman ever has made, and they say so frankly. Many of them pleaded with him not to accept the woman's challenge, but he would not listen to them and now they are roasting him hotly.

Dahlman is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor and is known as one of Mr. Bryan's most intimate and trusted political friends. Bryan is seeking to propitiate the friends of temperance in Nebraska and for Dahlman take the anti-temperance side in a joint debate with a famous woman temperance advocate will not only result disastrously to Dahlman but will injure Bryan and the party as well, Democrats generally think.

CRANK DAY, AT CITY HALL. Mayoralty Claimant Tries to Disrobe and Has to Be Arrested.

Three cranks called at the Mayor's office yesterday. Two of them were men, each of whom insisted that he was the rightful Mayor of the city. The third was a woman named Lowber, living in Brooklyn, who insisted that the city owed her $8,000. She took a seat in the outer office and declared that she would not leave until she got the

Lieut, Kennel tried to pacify the woman out she said that she would accept the money only from the hands of the Mayor Thereupon Kennel read her a newspaper clipping which showed that the Mayor was on his vacation and would not be back for a month.

As the woman went away she remarked that she would return in a month's time and that unless she got the money then she would make things warm for the Mayor and every one else in the City Hall.

One of the male cranks was a man named McGuire, who after announcing that he was Mayor commanded Kennel to show him the way to the private sanctum: Kennel tried to get rid of him, but the man threw himself on the floor and began tearing off his clothes. He was arrested and committed to Bellevue Hospital for examination as to his mental condition.

Kennel had no trouble in persuading the other claimant for the Mayor's chair that it would be necessary for him to have a recount before he could assume the office.

When the policemen were a block from the clubhouse speculators began to offer them choice seats. At the entrance they found men selling admissions, they say.

PLANS TO SUE JUDGE LANDIS. | GIRL AND BOY IN AUTO KILLED

LONG ISLAND TRAIN GOING 45 MILES AN HOUR HITS CAR.

Miss Lydia Townsend and Chauffeur Die Soon After Smashup Near Glen Head -Lloyd Rebinson, Whose Father Owned the Car, and Beatrice Eddy Injured.

An automobile owned by Charles L. Robinson, vice-president of the Guardian dence at Sea Cliff, and containing Mr. Robinson's son, Lloyd, 19 years old; Miss Lydia Townsend, 20 years old; Miss Beatrice Eddy, 22 years old, and the chauffeur, Arthur Smith, 19, was struck by an express train on the Long Island Railroad at the crossing near the Glen Head station late yesterday afternoon.

Miss Townsend died on the way to hospital and Smith, the chauffeur, died an hour or so later. Robinson and Miss Eddy were badly bruised, but their injuries are not thought to be serious.

Miss Townsend lived with her widowed mother and sister at Sea Cliff. Miss Eddy is a daughter of Col. John G. Eddy of the Forty-seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., of Brooklyn. Col. Eddy's home is at 347 Clifton place, Brooklyn, and he also has a sum-mer home at Sea Cliff. Young Robinson is a student at Williams College.

Robinson and the two girls had been out sailing yesterday morning and in the afternoon they took a drive in Mr. Robinson's automobile to Oyster Bay and Westbury. They were returning home to Sea Cliff when the accident occurred. Cedar Swamp road, along which the car was running, crosses the Long Island tracks about 100 feet from the station at Glen Head. The station on one side of the road and the freight house on the other tend to obstruct the view of trains from the road, and there are also bushes along the tracks. There is a slight hill at the tracks, descending again on the other side. The provision against accidents at the crossing is a bell, which, according to several witnesses, did not ring vesterday to announce the coming of the express.

To ascend the hill to the track, Smith speeded up the automobile. The young man and young woman in the tonneau were singing and no one saw the train until the car was struck. The train caught it almost fairly in the middle of the side, demolishing it and scattering the fragments in all directions.

Miss Townsend was thrown 75 feet into a ditch at the side of the tracks. Smith's body caught in the pilot of the locomotive and was carried 100 feet and dropped off to one side. According to Engineer Edward Brower of the express, his train was going about forty-five miles an hour at the time. The train continued a mile before it could be stopped. There is no stop for this train at that station.

As soon as he stopped his train Brower backed up to the scene of the socident. Miss Eddy had jumped from the ear just as the train struck it, and escaped with some bad bruises and several cuts about the face. Robinson had been thrown some distance and was bruised and out and had an ankle sprained besides possible internal injuries. Miss Eddy was the first to reach the others and assisted in caring for them.

Frank Harrison, a hackman, was standing at the crossing and saw the train and auto mobile coming. He shouted and waved his hat in warning to the chauffeur but apparently was not seen or heard. W. C. Bell, who has a general store near the station, saw the crash from his store and telephoned to all the physicians near by. Miss Townsend was in a dying condition when picked up. Her head had been badly crushed and many bones broken. The express train, due in Oyster Bay at 5:44 o'clock, is known as the "milfional special." It is a heavy train and made up of two club cars, two smokers, a parlor car. wo coaches and a baggage car. It was sacked up, and a local train, coming just behind it, was stopped at that point and its passengers transferred to the express. Then the local was impressed as an ambulance train and the injured were hurried back to Mineola, where ambulances were waiting to take them to the Nassau Hospital. Miss Townsend died in the ambulance Smith a short time after reaching the hos-

One of the passengers on the local was Charles L. Robinson, who got off the train with the others and found that his son was one of the injured He returned to Mineola with his son.

Smith had but recently been graduated from an automobile school and had been chauffeur for Mr. Robinson but two weeks. His home was at Brookville, about four miles from Sea Cliff.

Acting Coroner Cornelius Remsen of Roslyn last night held a brief investigation of the wreck and gave permits for the removal of the bodies of Miss Robinson and Smith from the hospital. An inquest will be held and the engineer and Elmer Day of 147 Fourth street, Long Island City, the conductor, as well as Harrison and other witnesses will be examined. The crossing where the accident oc curred is a particularly dangerous one. A neavy truck was struck by a train there a few months ago and two men were injured, barely escaping death.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt passed over the same road yesterday morning on a horseback ride from Oyster Bay to Sea Cliff. The President often makes the trip in an automobile, crossing the railroad at the same point.

OYSTER BAY, July 27 .- The call for more gunboats to protect the interests of the United States in the troubled sections of Central America has deprived President Roosevelt of the services of the yacht Mayflower, which for several summers past has always lain at an anchorage convenient to Sagamore Hill in readiness to carry Mr. Roosevelt on seagoing excursions. TOOK WAGNER'S CAP AND SHIRT. How Sonvenir Hunters Besleved Ball Player After Saturday's Game. John Wagner better known as Hone the shortstop of the Pittsburg baseball team, is minus one cap and all but the fragments of one shirt. Wagner played in yesterday's game at the Polo Grounds in a cap and shirt which had been sent on from Pittsburg in response to a hurry call last Saturday night. The rough but none the less worshipful homage of a crowd of baseball cranks resulted in Wagner's parting with the articles of apparel.

Wagner made five hits in the game last Saturday, and while the crowd was sorry the New Yorks lost and would a thousand times rather the game had gone the other way there was a spontaneous and rare outbreak of regard for the robust Dutchman's exceptional ability-rare because he was on an opposing team and one that is fighting New York for the pennant.

It didn't take long for a crowd to gather around Hans as he was scurrying across the field after the game. The Dutchman is modest above all things and he doesn't like that sort of thing a little bit. Several men grabbed him and started to raise him aloft. but he struggled down and tried to shoulder his way through the press. Not a chance Somebody whisked his cap off his head first warning him that the cap was wanted as a couvenir and that the souvenir hunter wouldn't be happy till he got it.

"This is getting off easy, "muttered Wagner as he plunged along bareheaded. But the big fellow didn't get off as easy as he thought-Under the mauling and slapping to which he was subjected his shirt gave way and quickly disintegrated into more souvenirs. infielder reached the dressing room for a Steady Revival. statement was made yesterday on behalf of the Erie Railroad Company that business was beginning to improve and that preparations were being made for a general increase in business up to the er of the year. The statement says: "We have been adding to our forces of men in the operating department, and the shops have been unusually busy for the last month. We have been getting our rolling stock in shape in anticipation of a largely increased business. The crops are very large in the Northwest and the reports we receive indicate that business on the railroads is slowly increasing and will increase more rapidly in a few weeks.

ERIE'S BUSINESS PICKING UP. More Men Employed and Plans Making

"There is a growing feeling of confilence throughout the country among business men, and though the results have only begun to manifest themselves in an increased demand for men in some of the deartments, it is generally believed that the tide is on the turn and that the business depression is becoming a thing of the past. We have, though the number has not yet reached the normal, more men employed low than we have had employed at any time since the beginning of this year."

It was stated on behalf of the road that there was no intention of reducing wages unless something unforeseen happened.

MANY DROWNED BY TYPHOON Storm Followed Fast on Warning Guns a

Hongkong, July 27 .- At 11 o'clock to night the signal guns were fired, warning the people of the approach of a typhoon. The storm approached with great rapidity, causing a very high sea to run. Much damage was done on shore. A large number of Chinese boats were caught in the gale. Some of them capsized, while others foundered. A very large number of the crews were drowned. Owing to the darkness and the fury of the storm it was almost impossible to make any attempt to save them. Thirteen of the crew of the British cruises Astress manned a small boat and, aided by a searchlight on board the cruiser searched the harbor for victims. They worked hard for an hour and succeeded in picking up six persons.

No damage to vessels in the harbor is reported.

OIL MAN'S FAMILY BOUND TO LAWYER'S BY ANOTHER TIE.

Brother of Violet Pierce, Who Secretly Married James R. Deering, Married to James R.'s Sister May Without Violent Publicity-Harvard Even With Yale. The report became current last evening hat Theron F. Pierce, Harvard '06, one of the two sons of Henry Clay Pierce of he Waters-Pierce Oil Company, had just been married to Miss May Deering, daughter of James A. Deering, the lawyer, of 309 Riverside Drive, in much the same manner that Miss Deering's brother, James R. Deering, Yale '02, was married in March last to Mr. Pierce's sister Violet.

Mr. Pierce is known to his classmates as Teeny. The news of the wedding reached them first, but no one went to any pains last night to let the public know about it. Neither the elder Mr. Pierce nor any one else could be found at the Pierce apartment in the Hotel Plaza, and at the Deering residence a man who said he was the elder Mr. Deering's secretary declared that the young Mr. Deering was at his cottage in Allenhurst, N. J. He didn't know where young Mr. Deering's sister was, he said, and didn't know whether Theron Pierce was down there or not. He didn't know anything about the wedding, he said.

An inquirer who went to the Deering house later was introduced to a young man who said he was Mr. Pierce and who had nothing to say about the wedding. The young man was one of a merry dinner party of six, including two young women. After they had gone Mr. Deering's secretary said he was still without information about the wedding but that if he heard anything he would send word.

The marriage of Miss Violet Pierce and James R. Deering last March was much against the wishes of Henry Clay Pierce, father of the bride. She had been much in society the last winter and had as a chap eron, it was said, a young woman who helped the young couple with their love affair so much that Mr. Pierce finally dispensed with her services. None of the bride's relatives witnessed the wedding ceremony, although it was said that Mr. Pierce had half consented that his daughter should be married after Easter.

Miss May Deering had expected to spend the summer with her parents in Europe Mr. Pierce is one of three children of Henry Clay Pierce, the third being Roy E. Pierce who is older but was a member of the same class in Harvard as his brother.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PARIS, July 27.—The trials instigated by Senator Berenger, the French Anthony Comstock, against three music hall managers for allowing nude women to display themselves on the stage have ended in the equittal of two of the accused on the ground that the shows were essentially artistic. The manager of the Little Palace Music Hall, however, was condemnad to three months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1,000 because the spectacle he produced was judged to be "absolutely foreign to any artistic sentiment and belonging, by its brutal realism and revolting obscenity exclusively to the domain of pornography.

Two actresses who took part in the production were each sentenced to fifteen days imprisonment and to pay a fine of $250, but they were allowed the benefit of the Berenger law for first offenders, and thus they escaped going to prison.

POLICE DEPORT NAN PATTERSON. Pittsburg Authorities Give Her Choice Be tween the Workhouse and Departure. PITTSBURG, July 27.- The police department to-day gave out the information that Nan Patterson, who was twice tried for the murder of Casar Young, had left Pittsburg on last Saturday at the request of the police department and that he had been told not to return under pair of being sent to the workhouse for a year where she would have to scrub floors. The workhouse threat was what brought Nan to time, and after a spirited defence she left. The chasing of Nan took place last Satur day afternoon, but the police did not tell the public until to-day. The ex-chorus appears to have gone too far with a Pittsburger whose name has been prominent in the pig iron world. She is alleged to have broken him with her ex-travagances, and his wife on last Saturday went to the police and made formal com-

Detectives Lally and Leff found the woman living at a downtown hotel and ordered her to go with them to the police station. She went under escort and was ushered into the presence of acting Chief of Detectives John Roach, who told her plainly that she was making too free with the husbands of other women, that Pittsburg would be well off without her, that she must leave town, and at once. The woman demurred and protested, but she was told plainly that unless she went charges would be made against her and she would be sent for a year to the workhouse. This made Nan wilt, and the police say she consented to leave town at once, which she

Miss Soon is perfectng herself in Latin. She began her studies in this country in the Walnut Hill school at Natick, Mass., and plans to teach Latin in the private schools of China. TIM INVITED TO OYSTER BAY

THE DENIAL FROM THERE WAS MERELY DIPLOMATIC.

State Chairman Wasn't Sure Yesterday When He Was Going, but It's Wednesday -He and Parsons Are So Slient About

Hughes You Can Hear Them Think.

Secretary Loeb announced at Oyster Bay lest night that Timothy I. Woodruff is coming to Oyster Bay to-morrow for a conference with the President. Mr. Loeb explained his denials of the past few days that President Roosevelt expected to see any of the State leaders by saying that Chairman Woodruff had asked for an appointment with President Roosevelt and the date was tentatively set for Wednesday. Secretary Loeb said that he didn't want to mention it until he heard from Mr. Woodruff that he was coming on that day.

Mr. Loeb said on Sunday that no State leaders were expected to call upon the President this week to discuss the possibility of Gov. Hughes's renomination He declared that the President had absolutely nothing to say about the situation in New York and "had no idea of interfering in any way in focal politics."

Chairman Woodruff of the Republican State committee and Chairman Parsons of the county committee returned to town vesterday, but nary a word could either be induced to say on the announcement made by Gov. Hughes that he would be willing to accep a renomination.

"I will make my position clear right now, Mr. Woodruff said, "by stating frankly that I shall avoid referring in any way until the State convention to possible can dates for the nomination for Governor. As the chairman of the State com my business is to listen to what others have to say and to do everything I can to bring about the success of the national and State tickets, and I intend to stick to that position. Neither now nor at any other time prior to the convention shall I express any regarding candidates, but I shall simply go ahead and do everything I can to elect the electoral tieket and the State ticket, no matter what candidates may be placed on that ticket by the State convention

Mr. Woodruff denied that the conference he had held at his camp in the Adirondacks had anything to do with plans for preventing the nomination of Gov. Hughes.

"After the Chicago convention," he said I wrote to all the county leaders and members of the State committee that until the middle of August I would spend alternate weeks at my camp and in the headquarters in this city and that I would be glad if they would visit me at whichever place was convenient to them, so that we could make plans for the coming campaign. At the conferences which I have already had there was no talk of Gubernatorial candid campaign details being the only ma that were considered. As a matter of fact several of the visitors to Kamp Kill Kare were friends of Gov. Hughes, men like Senators Cobb and O'Neill and Assemblyman Hart. I expect to have similar conferences while I am in this city this week, but these will be entirely for the purposs of arranging details of the fights to be

"Have you heard whether or not President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft favor the renomination of Gov. Hughes?" Mr. Woodruff was asked.

"I have not," he replied, and then he added, "I have not definitely planned as yet to go to Oyster Bay to talk with the President, but I may possibly go there this reek." [This was in the early afternoon.] Mr. Woodruff said that the State committee when it meets in this city on Aug ist 12 would undoubtedly fix September 14 for the State convention, despite the fact that the State fair opens on September 15. He thought, however, that the pr ceedings of the convention would be expedited that an adjournment might be

TAFT SILENT AS TO HUGHES.

Republicans at Cincinnati Think New York Machine Will Have to Accept Him. CINCINNATI, July 27 .- Mr. Taft will not express himself on the Hughes candidacy. taking the ground that it would be improver for him to say anything about a candidate in any State until a nomination is made. It is known, however, that Mr. Taft before he was nominated was of the opinion that Mr. Hughes would be a strong man for second place on the national ticket. and his opinion in regard to the Hughes andidacy for Governor is probably the Mr. Taft has corresponded with Mr. Hughes since the Chicago convention. He said in Hot Springs a few days ago that he had received a very cordial letter from

Mr. Hughes. This letter was in reference to an invitation which Mr. Taft had extended to Gov. Hughes to open the Ohio campaign in Youngstown on September 5. Mr. Hughes accepted the invitation. Republicans who believe that Mr. Taft ooks with favor on the Hughes candidacy point as a further evidence of the goo eeling between them to the fact that Mr. Hughes, overlooking his own future at Chicago, came out a few days after the convention and delivered a good Taft peech at the ratification meeting of the Republican Club in New York city. Herbert Parsons, after his conference with Mr. Taft at Hot Springs last week. did not hesitate to say that Mr. Hughes would be nominated if the sentiment of the people was for him Republicans from States outside of New York who have gathered here are greatly interested in the Hughes announcement. They are practically unanimous in their opinion, that the machine politicians will be obliged to accept him.
